1. AAAS Science & Technology Policy Fellowships Seminar
When: 5:30 - 7:00 pm on Monday, November 9, 2015
Where: Holden Auditorium, Farrell Learning and Teaching Center, Medical Campus
AAAS Science & Technology Policy Fellowship
Interested in science writing or science policy? Come hear about fellowships and internships you can apply for to gain hands-on experience. Learn about opportunities for Ph.D.s (of any discipline!) including AAAS Science & Technology Policy Fellowship, AAAS Mass Media Mass Media Science & Engineering Fellowship, the Presidential Management Fellowship and more! Hear from past AAAS Fellows about their experiences and gain tips for your own application. Applicants must hold U.S. citizenship and a doctoral level degree.
Open to all graduate students and post-docs! Snacks and refreshments provided.
RSVP requested: http://goo.gl/forms/WOqBWz2m6u
Sponsored by ProSPER, promoting Science Policy, Education, and Research.

2. New Professional Impact Series from the Office of Faculty Affairs
One important key to success is managing your personal and professional image, whether it’s leading a meeting, presenting yourself in social media, or featuring your research on scholarly publishing, research or personal Web sites. To assist faculty with optimizing their professional impact in the academic setting, the Office of Faculty Affairs has joined the Becker Medical Library and others to offer a new “Professional Impact” series. All workshops will be held in Schwarz Auditorium, Maternity Hospital Building (map). Postdocs are welcome to attend.

Tuesday, November 10, noon-1pm – “Making Social Media Work for You” with Becker Library staff
Thursday, February 18, noon-1pm, – Using SCiENev and My Bibliography for the NIH Biosketch with Becker Library staff
Tuesday, March 15, noon-1pm, – “Enhancing the Visibility of Your Research” with Becker Library staff
Thursday, May 19, noon-1pm, – “How to Run a Phone/Webinar Meeting and Tips on Networking with Participants” with Karen Dodson
For more information or to suggest topics, contact Karen Dodson, Office of Faculty Affairs, 362-4181 or karen.dodson@wustl.edu
Sponsored by the Office of Faculty Affairs

3. Free Yoga Class for Postdocs
Please come join us for a one hour relaxing free yoga session on Tuesday, November 10th, 2015 at 5:30pm in the Olin Gym (Med Campus). Bring your yoga mat, towel, water and your best yoga tree pose (all levels are invited). Event reserved for postdocs only. Please RSVP at http://goo.gl/forms/fDU9ZgVqpq
Sponsored by the WU Postdoc Society

4. Lab Set-up
Wednesday, November 11, 2015, 1pm, Holden Auditorium
Setting up your first lab can be an overwhelming project. Dr. Luis Batista, Assistant Professor, Internal Medicine, Developmental Biology, will share his experiences in setting up a lab including administrative and scientific details to think about to ensure that your lab gets off to a successful start.
Register: http://dbbs.wustl.edu/Resources/Pages/calendar_event.aspx?EvID=4010
This seminar is part of the Faculty Career Search Seminar Series. Last session is Lab Finances 12/2.

5. CIRTL Events & Classes
The Center for the Integration of Research, Teaching, and Learning (CIRTL) is an NSF Center for Learning and Teaching in higher education. Washington University is a member of the CIRTL Network.

CIRTLcasts are one-hour, once-a-week sessions throughout the academic year. These sessions are organized around a monthly theme covering some aspect of STEM, pedagogy, and diversity.
Sessions are 1:00-2:00PM ET/12:00-1:00PM CT/11:00AM-12:00PM MT/10:00-11:00AM PT on Wednesdays from September through April; there will be no sessions in December. On the day of a session, we’ll update our event page with a link to the session's Blackboard room. Simply find the session in the event calendar and click "Join this session." If you’re new to Blackboard, make sure you review our Blackboard instruction page to familiarize yourself with the software ahead of time.

November: Building a Rewarding Academic Career
Building your own STEM career in academia requires juggling so many things: institutional lifestyle, equity and inclusivity, and a substantial research portfolio, to name a few. This month, we’ll dig into several facets of careers in academia with sessions on different types of academic institutions, women in STEM, and bolstering your research portfolio with your very own CIRTL work. This series is organized by University of Texas at Arlington.

November 11, 2015: Women in STEM: Issues for Equity and Inclusion
November 18, 2015: How To Balance Your Portfolio: Research Portfolios and the CIRTL Experience
No session 11/25 or in December.

Teaching in the US is a workshop series from the University of Maryland, College Park and CIRTL, designed to bring international STEM students and postdocs together to learn about higher education in the United States. The series will cover practical topics, like grading and how to communicate with students, in addition to longer discussions around the unique insights that international TAs bring to STEM classrooms. The series grew out of our Teaching in the US online community, which has additional resources, message boards, and news for international TAs. Sessions are 12PM ET/11AM CT/10AM MT/9AM PT on the second Thursday of every month from September through April. http://www.cirtl.net/Teaching-in-US-2015-2016

November 12, 2015: Grading and Effective Feedback in the American System
December: No Session
CIRTL Reads is a monthly online journal club that expands Network participants’ understanding of STEM teaching and learning by discussing recent articles in pedagogy and current trends within STEM. Readings will be posted on the series’ Moodle page, and participants are asked to submit discussion questions to the CIRTL Reads discussion leader, Dr. Adam Blanford (gtptiger AT colorado.edu), at least 24 hours before the scheduled session.

Sessions are 3:00-4:00PM ET/2:00-3:00PM CT/1:00-2:00PM MT/12:00-1:00PM PT on the second Wednesday of every month from September through April. Ahead of each session, you’ll need to go to Moodle to read the month’s article; to access the 2015-2016 CIRTL Reads Moodle page, please submit a request form. On the day of a session, we’ll update our event page with a link to the session’s Blackboard Collaborate room. Simply find the session in the event calendar and click "Join this session." If you’re new to Blackboard Collaborate, make sure you review our Blackboard instruction page to familiarize yourself with the software ahead of time.

6. Keck Graduate Institute Webinars
KGI is delighted to invite you to attend our Pathways to the Life Science Industry Webinars. Many PhDs could use practice in the development of advanced cognitive skills and broadened perspectives to effectively contribute in the life science industry. In this webinar series, we present examples of career pathways as we emphasize the integration and application of knowledge regarding products, processes, the regulatory environment, intellectual property, the markets, and financial matters.

Don't miss these unique opportunities to learn about the careers in the life sciences industry that leverage your unique scientific training and place you on a trajectory to leadership.

7. AWIS Webinar Event on Negotiation
Join AWIS-STL to watch 2 videos on women & negotiation! Studies show women are less likely to negotiate than men, but when they do negotiate - they might receive backlash. We're watching 2 short videos from experts that study women and negotiation to learn more about why this happens and how to improve our negotiation skills. We'll discuss our own experiences and ideas after the videos. There will be some snacks and drinks! Invite your friends or coworkers. Men are welcome too.

The event is free but please RSVP here to help us plan: http://bit.ly/1LTxitX

Date: Wednesday, Nov 11
Time: 6-8 PM
Location: Chuck Berry Room (2nd floor near the elevators), Cambridge Innovation Center. Located at 4240 Duncan Avenue, St. Louis, MO, 63110 with a free parking lot.

Also, keep an eye out for an upcoming AWIS planning meeting. We'll email out information regarding our next meeting soon.

From, The AWIS Steering Committee

8. OUTGrads Happy Hour
WHAT: OUTgrads November Happy Hour (with Pride Alliance)
WHEN: Friday, November 13 (6-8 PM)
WHERE: Pin Up Bowl, 6191 Delmar Blvd, St. Louis, MO 63112
Join OUTGrads and Pride Alliance for an evening of bowling at Pin Up Bowl on the Loop.

10. Enhancing the Visibility and Impact of Your Research

The Institute of Clinical and Translational Sciences, in cooperation with the Bernard Becker Medical Library, is offering a workshop: Enhancing the Visibility and Impact of Your Research

Wednesday, November 18, 2015

Noon - 1 pm, Farrell Learning and Teaching Center, Room 214

The workshop will cover various strategies for participants to consider as they undertake research activities. The strategies are divided into three categories: 1) Preparing for Publication, 2) Dissemination, and 3) Tracking Your Research. After attending this workshop, participants will be able to better understand tools and approaches that can be used to enhance author profiles, promote discoverability of research findings, and how to track publications.

The strategies presented in this workshop can be used for the following purposes:

- Establish author name/profiles
- Utilize new methods of dissemination to supplement traditional publishing methods
- Discover how research findings are being used

The lecture is sponsored by the Washington University Institute of Clinical and Translational Sciences, NIH award UL1 TR000448. Registration is preferred but not required.

Please register or contact Cathy Sarli to have a reminder email sent before the session.

13. IPH 8th Annual Conference

The Institute for Public Health's 8th Annual Conference, "Prepared for Peril: Readiness and Recovery for Public Health Threats", is being held Thursday, November 19th. This year’s conference will focus on public health threats of all kinds, from climate change and infectious disease outbreaks to natural disasters and civil unrest. Our keynote speaker is Dr. Stephen Redd, Director of the Office of Public Health Preparedness and Response at the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

This free, half-day event will take place on November 19 and is open to everyone. It will include a keynote address, panel discussion, poster session, and networking opportunities, and will take place on Washington University’s Medical Campus. Preregistration is requested. You can see more and RSVP today at our website here: http://publichealth.wustl.edu/events/8th-annual-conference

14. Skandalaris Center Lunch & Learn: Women in Entrepreneurship

15. Non-Tenure Track Careers for STEM Ph.D.s
Friday, November 20th, 9am, FLTC Holden Auditorium
Join Rachel Dunn, Ph.D., Administrative Officer in the Washington University Department of Chemistry, as she discusses the career path that led her from academia, to industry, and back again. Her talk will highlight non-tenure track career options for STEM Ph.D.s, focusing on her own career choices and offering recommendations for Ph.D.s who seek similar experiences. After completing her Ph.D. in Chemistry and a postdoc, Rachel worked for an analytical chemistry laboratory doing research as well as technical sales and project management. In her current administrative position at Washington University, she interacts with faculty, staff, students, and others on campus to keep the Chemistry Department functioning smoothly. Bagels and coffee will be served, please register at http://dbbs.wustl.edu/Resources/Pages/calendar_event.aspx?EvID=4060

16. Lab Finances
Wednesday, December 2, 2015, 1pm, Holden Auditorium
Running a lab is something like running a small business, in that you have to assess and plan your expenditures and income. Dr. Tamara Doering, Professor, Molecular Microbiology, will discuss 'types' of money and expenses you will encounter as junior faculty and how to think about them. And even if running your own lab seems far off, the information should help you be a more informed lab member and job seeker in the interim!
Register: http://dbbs.wustl.edu/Resources/Pages/calendar_event.aspx?EvID=4009
This seminar is part of the Faculty Career Search Seminar Series.

17. WUPS Coffee Hour
Please come join us on Thursday December 3rd at 9 am in FLTC room 213 for one hour Q&A session about developing idea into business and startups. Dr. Mario Ortega, postdoc working in the Neurology department will talk about his experience and the specificity of the IDEA Labs organization (incubator).
Please RSVP at http://goo.gl/forms/uBCsjzgb2N
Sponsored by the WU Postdoc Society

18. Improv for Professional Communication
Improve your communication skills in this interactive, 2-part Improv for Professional Communication workshop led by Nicholas Tamarkin, Ph.D. The NIH and National Postdoctoral Association (NPA) emphasize the need for scientists to connect with diverse audiences; employers from all sectors value confident speakers and active listeners. The workshops focus on acquiring interpersonal tools vital to conveying the impact of groundbreaking research to lawmakers and the public. You will learn improvisational techniques that will help you think on your feet for networking, teaching, and teamwork, and participate in simple theater exercises that build confidence while emphasizing clear and effective communication. By practicing these basic skills, you will improve your own presentation methods, developing effective strategies for leadership, persuasion, and conflict resolution. To participate, you must attend both sessions: Mondays, Dec. 7 and Dec. 14, 2 pm-3:30 pm, FLTC 214.
Registration for this workshop is full. If you would like to be added to the waitlist or if you would be interested in attending another workshop at a later date, please email Jessica Hutchins at jhutchins@wustl.edu.

19. Postdoc Tuition Benefit
Registration for spring 2016 courses opened on Thursday Nov. 5th! Classes begin January 19th.
Benefits-eligible Postdoctoral Research Scholars/Associates are eligible for the Postdoctoral Tuition Remission Benefit. Postdocs may take undergraduate classes (classes that begin with a 1, 2, 3 or 4) at University College for career development purposes. Postdocs may take up to 4 credits per semester and a passing grade is required. Please visit http://ucollege.wustl.edu and click “Registration” to access course listings, registration procedures and other policies and procedures. Classes must relate to your professional development. Visit http://dbbs.wustl.edu/Postdocs/PoliciesBenefits/Pages/PostdocTuitionBenefit.aspx to review the policy and registration procedures.
Spring English Language Program Courses: https://courses.wustl.edu/CourseInfo.aspx?sch=U&dept=U15
U15 202 ELP: Talking to Americans: Casual and Professional Conversations
Meeting Time: Mondays 5:30-7:00 PM (Room TBD, Med Campus)
Course Description: This course is intended for individuals with a strong foundation of English fluency who want to interact more successfully in casual and professional settings. Communication strategies are taught through role plays and cross-cultural training techniques. Highlights of the course include practice getting into and out of conversations in unstructured settings (e.g., a networking reception), starting and maintaining group/class discussions, participating confidently in interviews, and discussing contemporary social and academic topics.
U15 213 ELP: Fundamentals of Research Writing for the Sciences
Meeting Time: Tuesdays 4:00-7:00 PM (Room TBD, Med Campus)
Course Description: This course covers grammar, structure, style, and information flow for research articles in the natural sciences. Participants use their own current work to practice writing, proofreading, and editing all sections of a research article. Participants also learn how to make the most of current language learning technology, including textual databases that enable them to find answers to their questions about elements of usage and structure typical for writing in their fields. Several editing workshops and individual tutorial meetings are built into the course to address language issues common to the course participants and to help strengthen participants’ skills at editing their own writing.

U15 270 ELP: Presentations Skills for the Sciences
Meeting Time: Thursdays, 6:00-8:00 PM (Room TBD, Med Campus)
Course Description: In this course for students and professionals in scientific fields who are nonnative speakers of English, participants develop their oral presentation skills. Organization, presentation style, pronunciation, and cross-cultural issues are addressed. Videotaping, individual feedback, and plenty of practice form the basis for assessment. By the end of the class, participants will have produced and practiced a complete presentation about their own research interests.

Attention Postdoctoral Scholars and Graduate Students!
The Society for Postdoctoral Scholars (SOPS) will be hosting our 6th Annual Postdoctoral Research symposium on February 5th, 2016. Mark your calendars for this day of oral and poster presentations and valuable networking opportunities. After a highly successful 2015 Symposium, the 2016 symposium promises to be even better. This year’s symposium is sponsored by the Graduate College and the Provost’s Office, and will be hosted at the Beckman Institute. Our keynote speaker is Dr. Adam Kruse from the School of Music. He will be presenting a keynote lecture entitled “Bring the Noise: Challenging the Relationships Between Hip-Hop and School Music”.
Abstracts submission and registration opens on October 15th, and will be open until January 15th, 2016. The registration fee is $15 for all participants. This includes coffee, a light breakfast, catered lunch, and light evening refreshments at the reception. Abstracts will be considered for either oral or poster presentations. As the number of oral presentations are limited, those abstracts not selected for oral presentations will be offered poster presentations. Graduate students are particularly encouraged to submit abstracts for the poster session. Travel awards will be available. The abstract word limit is 200 words. For more information, please visit our website: http://sops.beckman.illinois.edu/current-symposium/
To register, please follow this link: https://conferences.beckman.illinois.edu/registration.aspx?event=1089
We look forward to seeing you there!

21. The Open Science Prize
The National Institutes of Health has partnered with London-based Wellcome Trust to launch a global science competition for new products or services to advance “open science,” a movement to make scientific research data broadly accessible to the public. Up to six teams of technology experts and researchers stand to win $80,000 each to develop their ideas into a prototype or to advance an existing early stage prototype. The prototype judged to have the greatest potential to further open science will receive $230,000. The first phase of the competition is accepting applications through Feb. 29, 2016. Six teams will be selected based on the advice of a panel of experts to receive the prize money to advance their ideas to prototypes, and will be required to submit their prototypes by Dec. 1, 2016. The overall winner is expected to be selected on Feb. 28, 2017. More information about the Open Science Prize can be found at: http://openscienceprize.org.

22. OneStart Bio-Entrepreneurship Program
Don’t forget to apply to OneStart - the world’s largest life sciences and healthcare accelerator program
Win $150k to realize your healthcare business idea!
Applications are open NOW until 1st DEC 2015!
This is a call to all individuals with an innovative idea that could tackle humanity’s most pressing healthcare needs. OneStart offers young entrepreneurs the chance to win $150k, free lab space and on-going advice from our extensive mentor network drawn from McKinsey & Co., Johnson & Johnson Innovation, GlaxoSmithKline, AstraZeneca, SR One, Takeda Ventures and more. Many of our graduates have been successful in securing follow-on investment, our alumni raising over $30 million combined! There is no cost to apply, and applications are open NOW until 1st Dec, 2015.
Learn more at onestart.co today and start building your winning team.
Who should participate?
Anyone under 36 years old interested in healthcare entrepreneurship.
We welcome applicants from all disciplines and ideas at all stages of development - from a simple idea to a startup with ample data. Moreover we encourage applicants to recruit other scientists, engineers, business students, lawyers, and anyone else with talent and motivation to join your team. Have a fantastic idea but no co-founders; why not assemble your team through our co-founder hub, connecting innovators across the globe.
How does it work?
Again, there is no cost to apply. Simply fill out our short 2-page application form. Why not check out our article on what makes a great application with our TOP 5 TIPS on how to reach the semi-finals. Applications are reviewed in Dec 2015 and 35 semi-finalist teams are selected to attend a two-day Biotech Bootcamp based in San Francisco on 19th and 20th Feb 2016. Consisting of workshops and networking opportunities with our mentors and partners. Each team also receives 1-on-1 mentorship from our industry experts over 7 weeks. The program ends with the Finals Gala in Boston on 25th May 2016, at which 10 exceptional finalist teams compete for the grand prize ($150k and free lab space).

Who will you be working with?
You'll be directly interacting with experts across healthcare and life sciences drawn from pharma, biotech, venture capital, management consulting and more. Learn more about why individuals such as Matt Foy a partner at SR One (the corporate venture capital arm of GlaxoSmithKline) and Lynne Murray from MedImmune (the worldwide biologics division of AstraZeneca), are involved with the program on our OneStart Blog.

If you have any further questions feel free to get in touch via jess@oxbridgebiotech.com or reach us through our dedicated discussion forum.

What are you waiting for? Visit onestart.co today. Applications are open NOW. There is still plenty of time to apply. Remember no concept is too early stage.
